FootGolf Course Opens at Cameron Hills Golf Links

KING GEORGE, VIRGINIA, MAY 15, 2015 - Cameron Hills Golf Links now has an exclusive new offering. In addition to their rolling 18-hole championship golf course, Cameron Hills now offers a Certified AFGL FootGolf course.

The American FootGolf League recognizes certified courses across the country, and Cameron Hills Golf Links is pleased to announce the addition of its brand-new certified FootGolf course that was constructed alongside its traditional golf course. The new course offers a fun experience for FootGolf amateurs and experts alike.

FootGolf is a relatively new precision sport that requires players to kick a football into a cup by using as few attempts as possible. Combining elements found on a soccer field with those found on a golf course, FootGolf is quickly growing in popularity in the United States.

The staff at Cameron Hills Golf Links said, “FootGolf is the perfect new sport for new sport for all ages. It takes half the time and costs half as much as traditional golf.” Easy and fun to play, players don’t need lessons or time investments to enjoy FootGolf.

The Cameron Hills FootGolf course held its official opening on May 15, 2015. The new course consists of 18 AFGL certified FootGolf holes, with two sets of tees to match any skill level. The cost is $17 during weekdays and $22 on weekends.

At the Cameron Hills Golf Links website, players can find a full course map, as well as a comprehensive list of official FootGolf rules. The newly emerged sport is fun for players of all ages and skill sets, and the only item needed to play is a soccer ball. Players can text FOOTGOLF to 90210 to receive coupons, specials, and course updates. More information can be found at www.cameronhills.com/footgolf/.
