

Hole 12

Although it is not certain that James Braid played any role in setting out the golf course, the 12th is very reminiscent of his design philosophy. It's a brutal par-3 with no bail-out areas available.

No major changes to the hole are proposed other than the reconstruction of most of the bunkers as part of the overall renovation programme, with the removal of the bunker sandwiched between the 12th and 14th greens and the two rear hazards.
