Players without a GHIN will have a league handicap assigned after the first 4 weeks of play. The league handicap will be calculated using the best two scores of the first four weeks. Players with less than four scores will be assigned a scratch handicap until the minimum of four scores are posted. No results will be calculated until after the fourth week to give these players a chance to establish a league handicap. Players with an active GHIN will use the handicap effective on the date of play. After the fourth week all players use their handicap effective on the date of play or play as scratch if they don't have a GHIN, or league handicap established.
