Keep Your Game Sharp This Winter!

When it comes to mastering your golf game, there is one indisputable truth: If you don't use it, you lose it. Which is why winter may be the most important season of all—if you take a few months off, you're likely to lose your finely-tuned touch and have to start from scratch come April. Our driving range has a covered area to keep your skills up rain or shine!

Winter Tips!

Driving Range: Target Games: Once you've warmed up, practice hitting to a different target every shot. This will improve alignment skills and transfer your practice to the course.

Putting Practice: Use only 1 golf ball when putting. Pick a hole to play and putt to completion. This mimics putting on the golf course and is one of the best ways to putt under pressure versus putting to the same hole at the same distance many times.

Indoor Classes for The First Tee

Classes start December 3 and December 8 ages 6-8. No need to stop taking classes during the winter. This class will be held indoors at The Fire Training center next to Emerald Lake Golf Course!

Rick Olivarez celebrates 5 years with Emerald Lakes! Be sure to say hi to Rick and give some love to his pawesome side kick Diego!
